Resourcing

At Edenbridge, Our current consultant bench not only boasts some of the best fund change and fund launch professionals within the finance sector, but also imbeds a range of project, programme and business analyst backgrounds.

This ensures that the specialism focuses on funds and the change related projects around funds, but also highly skilled project professionals.

Edenbridge can supply project and programme professionals for a particular stand alone initiative. We can also use our wide resource pool to fill resourcing within the initiatives we take on to deliver.

Whatever the need we can flex the resourcing profile to suit the project requirements, at good value to ensure costs are kept as low as possible.

Our resource pool and consultant bench have worked with us on numerous projects and therefore tried and tested in this specific niche area to ensure delivery is achieved through our Edenbridge principles, block by block simplicity and at pace.

Specific

We only supply consultants whom specialise in either fund related change or fund launches within the project or programme sphere. This means that all focus and considerations are aligned with the fund related initiative at hand.

Focused

Our consultancy bench and resource pool will only focus on project professionals. These professionals will have either previously ran a programme or project or as an analyst, have been heavily involved in projects.

Qualified

Project and programme level qualified consultants specialising in fund related change. We also have access to data analysts, fund analysts and investment management professionals including CFA charter holders.

Day Rate

Programme, project and analyst level resourcing at competitive market rates on flexible terms ensuring that we provide you with the correct level, exacting experience and focus.
